What: 1 price, 1 disc, 1 course, 1 round (of 27 holes),
1 chance to win

Are you one of those golfers that carries a bag full of a dozen or more discs? Do you have Cyclones and Comets and Magnets in different colors and weights? Well for this tournament you can leave them at home, or leave them in your car, just leave them somewhere, cause for the One & Done you only get to use one disc the entire time! That's right! One disc to drive, the same one for the approach and the same one to putt with. So pick out the best over all disc in your bag, clean it off, and throw it well, cause you have to use the same disc for the round! Why is it called the One & Done? Well because you get to play with One disc. If you lose or break the disc, then you are Done.

Special tournament specific rules to be announced during the players meeting.

PDGA points awarded to all who finish, but the round will NOT be PDGA rated
